Meers, E. W. Graves of Des Arc and Arthur Huff of Ironton have an iron ore prospect in the south end of the county, near Des Arc, that may prove something valuable. It will probably be prospected thoroughly in the near future.

Dan Wilkinson, proprietor of the Commercial Hotel at Ironton, spent the first of the week here with his brother, Frank Wilkinson. He says that the hotel business is good in his town and that he has about all he can handle. —Fredericktown Tribune.

W. D. Fletcher, the stock man, says there is no question but that it "pays" to advertise. He says the Register has clearly demonstrated that fact to him in response to his advertisements he frequently receives inquiries and makes sales a long distance from Ironton. Of course it pays to advertise.

R. M. Goff dropped in to see us yesterday. He just recently came on a visit to his family from Arkansas, where he is operating a hub manufacturing plant for W. J. Lee. He expects to return to Arkansas the latter part of this week. —Reynolds County Outlook.

Arthur Spangh, who is serving a ninety-nine year sentence in the Missouri penitentiary for the murder of Sheriff John W. Polk of this county, in May, 1905, is said to be suffering from tuberculosis, having had a number of hemorrhages recently. Spangh has been in the penitentiary more than ten years.

On Monday, January 22d, "Uncle Jesse" Harrel reached his 99th milestone in life's journey. Mr. Harrel is spending the winter at Marquand, so his son, John W. Harrel, of this place sent him a huge cake, with 99 candles on it. Mr. Harrel is a veteran of the Mexican War and is also one of the oldest Masons in the state. —Bismarck Gazette.

Deputy U. S. Revenue Collector, J. A. Reysburn of Ironton, was here last Thursday and Friday looking around to see that none of your Uncle Sam's coin, which the Wilson administration needs so badly, is getting away unbeknownst. Joe is a good man on the job, on which he will probably keep his grip whilst Woodrow holds his. —Potosi Journal.

Warnings to the banks and the public were sent out from St. Louis Saturday from the United States secret service office in that city, against counterfeit half dollars which have been placed in circulation. There are two specimens, one imitating the old style half dollar and one the new denomination recently issued. It is said that the imitations are almost perfect.

The band wagon was put out in the weather by the contractor on the high school building last Wednesday. M. J. Francois observing the situation, promptly tendered the use of the big barn on his place as storage room for the wagon. If we happen to be on deck when the next band is organized, we propose to see that Mrs. Francois is the first person serenaded.

Bill Johnson, colored, about twenty years of age, was taken in custody by Sheriff Bill Monday, on a charge of crap shooting preferred against him nearly three years ago. All the time intervening he has eluded the authorities. Johnson was taken before Justice Rasche Tuesday, pleaded guilty as charged, and was fined $25 and costs. Bill says he has been making his home in Chicago. He says he had no idea that he would be molested, after all this time, if he came back to Ironton to see his folk.

Bismarck Gazette: "We have a case of smallpox in town, Stanley Biplinghoff being afflicted with that disease. Stanley came home from Chaffee last Tuesday. He was sick at the time, but it was not until Thursday that the true nature of the case was diagnosed. A rigid quarantine has been enforced and it is not probable that the disease will spread. Dr. Barth, the attending physician, stated that his patient was out of danger and on the road to recovery."

We are reliably informed that during the recent cold weather of the past week on several days the children and teachers in the public school suffered from the cold. It is said that the steam heating plant is inadequate to heat the entire building properly when the cold is intense. This is outrageous and should not be tolerated another day. We had better vote some bonds, if necessary, to keep the boys and girls comfortable and prevent them from getting colds and flues. Don't you think so?

Some fellow who apparently had nothing to do started a report this week that Morris Bros. had bought a building in Pilot Knob and were going to open a branch store there. J. C. Morris, advertising manager of the big local firm, says such a thing had never been considered for a moment by his firm. He said that last year was by far the biggest year's business they had had since they came to Farmington nearly twenty years ago and that another record-breaking month had just closed, hence they did not see any reason why they should be interested in a branch store anywhere. —Farmington News.

About two weeks ago W. F. Larimer, of Sabula, was arrested on the charge of practicing medicine without license. He gave bond in the sum of $100 for his appearance to answer the charge before Justice Rasche, February 6th, with W. T. Gay and A. L. Schwab of Ironton as sureties. When the case was called yesterday Larimer failed to appear and his bond was declared forfeited. It is said that he has snook the dust of Iron county from his feet and his present abode is not known. His prescription, it is alleged, were chiefly the "Dr. Buffalo Frank remedies"—whatever they are. Larimer had been living in the Sabula country for the past year or more.

The quarantine was lifted from the home of Noah White last Saturday. This is the last of the small pox cases here, and at the present time there is not a case in Greenville. All the homes where there were cases of the disease have been thoroughly fumigated in accordance with instructions laid down by the State Board of Health and it is hoped that there will be no more cases here. The local board of health is to be commended for their efficient work in eradicating the disease. The first case was reported December 4, and on January 27 the last quarantine was raised. This indeed is a record to be proud of. There have been 20 cases in all in Greenville. —Greenville Sun.

The Missouri Pacific-Iron Mountain has just received from the American Locomotive Works a number of new freight locomotives known as the 2-10-2 type which have forty-three per cent more tractive power than the Mikado type which is the largest freight locomotive in road use on most of the leading American railroads. The boiler of this new locomotive is 95 inches in diameter and the entire length of the locomotive is 99 feet 11 inches. The greatest width is 11 feet 11 inches and it is 15 feet 3-8 inches from the top of the rail to the top of the cab. The tender will hold 10,000 gallons of water and 16 tons of coal. The total weight of the engine and tender, loaded and ready for service, is 599,000 pounds. The locomotive is equipped with superheaters, has automatic stokers and all the latest devices in locomotive construction. There are five 63-inch driving wheels on each side.

There has been some very cold weather the past week. From Wednesday noon last week until Thursday morning there was a drop of 70 degrees in the thermometer—an awful change. On both Wednesday and Friday nights the low point was one degree. Thursday night it was ten below zero. Saturday, however, was milder and Sunday dawned with the promise of a pleasant day. But early in the morning the skies became overcast and the wind blew a gale for twenty-four hours. It was the bitterest, coldest wind, I believe, ever experienced in this section. It was terrible. Sunday night the thermometer again got down to zero. The ice on the creeks and ponds is the best in inches, running from four to seven inches, and everybody who has an ice house is busy harvesting the crop. Jos. C. Forshee has purchased Ed Masterson's interest in the ice business and has had a force of men at work the past two days filling up the old ice house on Stout's creek. Elias Nichols is cutting ice on "Red Rock" in Arcadia, and other people in the valley are putting away ice. At Middlebrook F. Buechenschultz is filling his house to the limit.

Reynolds County Outlook: "Ell Barber of Sinking Creek started Tuesday morning to visit his half-sister, Mrs. Margie Lettha Spitzmiller, wife of Ben Spitzmiller, living six miles east of Ironton, whom he had no recollection of ever having seen and in fact did not know for certain existed until recently when she was located for him by D. C. Howell who had been requested to conduct an inquiry several months ago to try and locate some of his relatives, none of whom he had any recollection of ever having seen, his father and mother dying when he was very young. About 45 years ago Mr. Barber's father came to this county bringing Ell, then 2 or 3 years of age with him, the wife and mother being dead. He located on Peola and taught school, and married again, one child, Margie Lettha, born, the father dying soon thereafter. Soon after his death Mrs. Barber took her daughter and left that neighborhood, leaving Ell who was taken by Fayette Parks to raise at the age of five years. He grew to manhood, married and has raised a family, without knowing for certain he had a living relative until Mr. Howell, by diligent inquiry finally located Mrs. Spitzmiller, who proved to be Mr. Barber's half-sister, who sent an urgent request for him to visit her, which request he speedily complied with. Mrs. Spitzmiller had heard she had a half-brother but did not know for certain. This is the second instance that Mr. Howell has located long lost relatives, the other instance being several years ago when he was County Treasurer he located for a lady in Indiana whom she said she had heard nothing of in 30 years. This man was located in Carter county."

How Sparrows Punish Thieves.
It is quite common in early spring for young and inexperienced sparrows to steal twigs and other building material from the nests of their elders. If this theft is detected, as it usually is, a posse promptly visits the offender's nest and scatters it to the four winds, soundly thrashing the occupant in the bargain.

Total Loss.
Binks—"Was the loss on Brown's dwelling total?" Jinks—"Yes; the neighbors saved six umbrellas, but recognized them all."

Laughter and Tears.
Laughter and tears, according to a recent book, are two forms of the same mechanism—a human safety valve to prevent the result of emotion from injuring the body.

Apple Tree Comes from Asia.
The apple tree is a native of southwestern Asia, the territory adjacent to Europe.

Trouble With the Corn.
Jimmie, three, lives on a farm and renders great assistance feeding the pigs and chickens. One morning he was trying to shell an ear of corn, but his fingers were not quite strong enough. So he said, "Please, mamma, I can't shell this corn. It's too stuck on itself."
